

Ji Wenyan

Attorney at Law

Ms. Ji graduated from East China University of Political Science and Law, and majored in Civil and Commercial Law. Ms. Ji passed the National Judicial Examination in 2010 with remarkable grades and joined LeeZhao Law Office in 2014.

Ms. Ji is experienced in areas of finance, securities, foreign investment and M&A involving foreign capital. Some of her typical cases include: the first successful issuance of close corporation bonds after the reform of corporate bonds policy; the public issuance of corporate bonds by an oil exploration and development private enterprise listed on the A-shares market; successful listing of a number of enterprises (with the industries covering manufacturing, agriculture, computer systems integration, etc.) in the NEEQ market; several investment projects of a well-known capital management company (with the industries covering education, medical care, media, TMT, manufacturing, software development, etc.); a number of private equity fund managers registration; participating in the establishment of foreign invested enterprises in China by several foreign companies, and participating in providing professional legal services to several multinational companies on the restructuring / merger / liquidation and other projects of their business in China.

Ms. Ji's working languages are Chinese, English and Japanese.